

ABSTRACT OF THE INVENTION

A business model algorithm and an apparatus for forming landscape edging blocks in which preforms of a dry concrete mix is first formed into a preform after which the preform is formed under pressure into an edging block shaped so as to nest with like edging blocks in such manner that a continuous edging may be formed in linear or non linear shapes.